MALAYSIAN PALM OIL FUTURES WEAK

Malaysian palm oil futures traded (January delivery) lower by RM 11 or 0.3% to RM 3757 ($ 802.43) per ton due to subdued demand from traders who are waiting for MPOB data, which will be released tomorrow. Higher demand in this month with seasonal decline in output, until first quarter of 2024 will support prices according to analysts.

GARLIC PRICE ROSE SIGNIFICANTLY

Garlic prices rose significantly during recent days. Prices have been increased around Rs.5000 per quintal and shortage in supply affected prices according to the news sources. Concerns on lower production and higher demand for winter season are said to be another reason for increase of prices. Due to adverse climate effect production may be lower.

TUR PRICES MAY INCREASE DUE TO DELAY IN IMPORTS

About 150000 tons of Turdal bound for India are held up in ports of Mozambique awaiting for export permission from customs, despite multiple requests from sellers over the past few weeks according to the news sources. Delay in imports has push up prices of Turdal in India . Lower production in current kharif season may lead to lower supply of Turdal in the domestic market.
